New Website Nears Completion

The LMYA website, LMYA.net, is getting a new look and added functionality. For the last 6 months, we have worked with an outside communications consultant to completely rebuild the website with more interaction buttons, better graphics, a new logo and branding, better designs for the yacht club pages and membership listings, and links to other yacht club's websites for easy access. You will like the new look and feel of the new site and will want to check it frequently for new features.
